Soaring cathedral spires, a magnificent Flemish-style railway station, nineteenth-century Larnach Castle, Olveston Historic House, heritage university buildings and a neo-gothic convent are among the city's architectural treasures. Take a stroll around New Zealand's oldest Botanic Gardens, established in 1863, visit the Dunedin Public Art Gallery, Toitu Otago Settlers Museum and the Otago Museum or visit the Chinese Garden, a perfect miniature of a traditional Chinese landscape painting.

The Otago Peninsula, which lies within the city boundaries, is internationally renowned for wildlife reserves including the rare Royal Albatross breeding ground and Yellow-Eyed and Little Blue Penguin colonies. Dunedin has some fabulous beaches along its coastline all within easy reach of the city and there are many walking tracks around the city that are suitable for all ages and degrees of fitness.
