Bugis Street, named after the legendary seafaring merchants from the Island of Sulawesi, was once one of the more notorious areas of Singapore. Recently it has been transformed and now boasts a bustling street life with boutiques, market stalls and open-air bars and restaurants.

Long after European explorers arrived in the Indonesian Archipelago in search of riches, the Bugis people had gained a reputation as masters of the seas. The hardy Bugis sailors constructed and controlled fleets of sailing ships to support the spice and cargo trade that thrived in these islands. With the friendship of the Makassar traders in the port of Ujing Pandang, the Bugis sailors carried spice and cargo to and from the 13,000 islands of the Archipelago. At major trading centres their cargo was traded with Chinese and Arab merchants, who then started their treks to the markets of Europe and the ancient Chinese dynasties. Today, these proud Bugis people still build the massive sailing schooners which carry large quantities of cargo to the colourful across the Archipelago.
