Welcome

Welcome to Dudley, the heart of the Black Country. The borough includes the towns of Dudley, Stourbridge, Brierley Hill and Halesowen and is about 30 minutes west of Birmingham in the West Midlands. The Black Country derives its name from its industrial past of coal mines and blast furnaces during its heyday of iron and steelmaking. Today it is built on proud traditions, industry and rich culture.

We are also internationally famous as part of the Black Country Global Geopark.

With a wide range of events and activities across our visitor attractions to locally brewed ales and beers in our historic pubs, there is something for everyone.

There are 16 miles of navigable canals, including several walks, cycle routes and moorings for boaters. With local and national nature reserves including a number of parks, there are plenty of outdoor leisure activities for all ages.

Dudley is associated with famous faces including Sir Lenny Henry, Duncan Edwards, James Whale, Billy Dainty and Dorothy Round; to mention a few.

Further information can be found at Dudley Council Plus or at www.discoverdudley.org.uk where you can also subscribe to the Discover Dudley e-newsletter filled with information on events taking place across the borough.

Enjoy your visit. Expect the unexpected.

Archives & Local History Centre

Want to discover more about yourself and your area?
This is the place to start.

This fabulous centre allows you to explore the wonderful heritage of the Dudley borough. The fantastic collections that are preserved here span over three miles and include the Papal Bull (over 800 years old!); parish records; school records; historic photographs; plans; glass recipe and pattern books and wonderful maps!

Find out what the inspiring collections can reveal; book on to a free family history research slot; explore one of the illuminating exhibitions; join one of the Friends of Dudley Archives monthly local history talks; or book a fascinating behind the scenes tour. Pop in to reveal more than just your history; discover more about your area, your family and ultimately yourself. The centre is also home to Dudley Museum at the Archives and the headquarters of the Black Country Global Geopark.

Black Country Global Geopark

Geoparks are globally important landscapes around the world, recognised for their exceptional geology, wonderful wildlife and unique cultures.

The Black Country is a place where coral seas, steamy swamps, scorching deserts, icy wastelands, mines and furnaces created unique and wonderful landscapes over 430 million years of geological time.

Between 1600 and the 1960s intensive heavy industry covered most of the area and earned this region international recognition as 'The Workshop of the World', where anything could be designed and made.

This industrialisation saw much of the landscape 'black by day and red by night': due to the coal mining wastes, furnace slag heaps and glow of the furnaces at night.

Today, there are over 40 geosites to explore that together tell the story of the Black Country. It is an amazing place to explore with many 'hidden' gems of world class natural and man-made wonders. These are classed as individual geosites such as Wren's Nest National Nature Reserve within the Black Country Global Geopark.

If you are looking for information, or wish to become an ambassador to support the work, visit

Black Country Living Museum

Visit the award-winning Black Country Living Museum and join in with 300 years of history like no other. Immerse yourself in the sights, sounds, smells and tastes of the past as you explore period shops and houses and discover what it was like to live and work in one of the world's most industrialised landscapes.

Ride a bus down to the museum's canal side village. Explore the past as you step inside the shops and houses that were once in the Black Country. Discover weird and wonderful treatments of the past in Emile Doo's Chemist; indulge yourself in the Victorian sweet shop; test your times tables in the school or watch a film in the 1930s Lime Light Cinema. Once you've worked up an appetite, grab a bag of traditionally cooked fish and chips or quench your thirst in the Bottle & Glass Inn where a warm welcome awaits.
